ASK HEARING BEFORE GOVERNOR FELKNER

Thaw's Newly Retained Counsel Seek Personal Hearing Before State Executive

JEROME FEARS CANADIANS

There Is So Much Feeling in the Thaw Matter by Canadians in Colebrooke That Jerome Prohibits Fugitive's Motor Trip

DENY PLANS FOR "STRONG-ARM" WORK

COLEBROOK, N. H. Sept. 12.—The protracted court battle denied Harry K. Thaw in Canada by his sudden deportataion on Wednesday, promises to be waged in New Hampshire. His newly retained counsel hope to have a personal hearing before Governor Felker on the matter of extradition and should extradition be granted to carry the matter to the State supreme court, on a writ of habeas-corpus. Three of these attorneys hurried to the capital today.

Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess County, New York, wherein is located Matteawan aslyum from which Thaw escaped was, enroute here tonight with the requisition warrant signed by Acting Governor Glynn. As the document must be first laid before Governor Elker, the New York lawyers were chgrined at the sheriff's mistake in heading for Colebrook. Upon his arrival here some other representataitve of the state interests will be turned back to Concord. Why Mornbeck started for this place was a mystery to William Travers Jerome who has for three weeks been trying to get Thaw back to the asylum.

Expect Hearing Wednesday.

Wednesday next, according to Thaw's lawyers, they expect to have their hearing before Governor Felker. They expect the case will go through the various stages necessary to carry it to the supreme court, all of which would mean days of weary awiting unless Jerome could engineer a second coupe. He has in mind now a plan instantly to secure the fugitive in case his deportation is ordered, thus blocking the efficiency of the habeas-corpus writ by concealing from Thaw's counsel the identity of the individual to whom Thaw would be given in charge. The writ would have to be directed against the prisoner's custodian at the time and if Jerome could work quickly enough and with sufficient secrecy his plan might be successful.

The chief argument of Thaw's lawyers, when the case comes up for hearing will be that New York seeks his extradition on a charge of conspiracy—a charge which they contend New York never purposes to try him on. They will ocntend that extradition in such circumstances is a subterfuge and that there are precedents to sustain them in this.

Out of Doors But Once.

Thaw left his hotel room for out of doors but once today to go to theh barber shop. The sheriff and ten special guards accompanied him. Rumors of kidnaping would not down the citizens of Coaticook, Quebec, who was denounced yesterday by Jerome as the leader of the anti-Jerome movement which resulted in his arrest on a charge of gambling remained in Colebrook today in spite of the ill feeling his presence has engineered. He whisked his motor car a good part of the day and this fact prevented Thaw from being taken for an airing this afternoon.

Jerome Prevents Auto Trip.

The sheriff had agreed to accompany the prisoner on a ride and Thaw and his lawyers were about to climb into the machine when the report spread that two cars bearing Canadians were stationed a half mile or so out of town toward the Canadian frontier. There has been so much feeling shown in the Thaw matter by the Canadians and so many of them have trailed after here that Jerome put his foot down on the motor trip at once and Thaw returned disappointed to his room.

On Monday next he was to have been produced before the King's bench in Montreal on a writ of habeas corpus. This was rudely upset by his election from the Dominion under order of the minister of justice but the writ will come up for argument never-the-less. It was said today that some of Thaw's Canadian adherents were planning to spirit him away to Montreal if possible in the hope that the writ would be sustained after all. Failing in this so the story ran, they purposed to put him aboard a yacht and eventually get him to Pennsylvania.

Thaw's lawyers denied knowledge of any such plan and repudiated any intention of resorting to "strong-arm" work.

Thaw himself, it is understood, has refused two offers to aid him in another break for liberty.

Case To Be Heard in Concord.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 12.—Harry K. Thaw, will make his fight for liberty in this city. Governor Felkner will grant a hearing some day next week, probably Wednesday, on the demand of acting Governor Glynn of New York that Thaw be extradited.

This was learned tonight informally, the governor having received no word of the matter officially as yet. He plans to go to his home tomorrow morning for the week-end but intimated tonight that if Sheriff Hornbeck, of Dutchess County, N. H. was likely to arrive here during the forenoon, he would wait and receive the requisition warrant the sheriff is bringing from Albany.

Three of Thaw's attorneys were already in the city tonight and it was reported that Judge William M. Chase, who was formerly on the supreme bench of the state, would be retained as the leading New Hampshire lawyer in Thaw's interests.

SPRINGFIELD STIRRED BY ATTEMPTED CRIME

NEGRO ATTEMPTS TO ASSAULT TEN-YEAR-OLD SCHOOL GIRL.

Southeast Portion of Capital City Is Excited Over Negro's Act—Youth Is Arrested and Confesses—Child Escapes Serious Injury.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 12.—For the first time since the memorable race riot in Springfield in August, 1908, there was some talk of a lynching here tonight following the arrest and confession of Charles Banks, colored, aged 18, that he had attempted to criminally assault ten year old Theresa Marie Akins this afternoon when she was on her way home from school.

Though there is some excitement in the extreme east portion of the city where the girl lives and attended the lles school, the police anticipate no trouble and say no serious threats have been made.

Edward O. Akins, father of the girl, an employe at the Springfield Paving Brick Company's plant, went to the police station. His demand to see the negro was refused. He was excited but left without making any threats after the police had counsel with him.

The fact that the child escaped serious injury has a tendency to silence inflamatory talk. According to the girl's story and as contributed to the negro's confession, she was seized by Banks and dragged to a nearby corn field. The girl escaped from the negro, and ran to the home of John Wright. No one was at home, and the negro followed her as she fled from the house. He over took her, again dragged her to the corn field and was in the act of tearing her clothes as she struggled to escape him when a group of children enroute home came along and frightened him away.

Negro Soon Confesses.

The girl ran home, gave the alarm, several groups of neighbors gave chase and searched the nearby fields. Banks, who had run through several fields, cut around and came back to the city where he was recognized and held for the officers by Oscar Hunt. He offered no resistance and confessed soon after being jailed.

The police say the young negro was sent from Harrisburg, Ill., to the St. Charles home for delinquents and that after being there twenty months went to Joneboro, Ark., recently returning to Illinois.

Want Speedy Justice.

Expressing a wish that speedy justice be meeted out to Charles Banks the eighteen year old negro, who this afternoon attacked ten-year old Theresa Akins, whilt the girl was on her way home from school in this city, a delegation of colored citizens called upon States Attorney Burke and Circuit Judge Creighton tonight and urged that a special session of the Grand Jury be called to indict Banks.

Negro Killed In Fight With Posse.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 12.—One negro was killed and another is believed to have been fatally wounded by a posse of citizens near Tamms, Ill., early this morning following the negroes' attempt yesterday to force a merchant of Tamms to accept a bill of five dollars. When the clerk refused to accept theh bill in payment for a small purchase, theh negroes drew revolvers and began firing as they bhacked out of the store. The clerk was not injured. Citizens and deputy sheriffs pursued the negroes.

A running fight was exchanged between the pursuers but the negroes escaped. At mid-night blood hounds from Anna, Ill., tracked them to a field one mile south of Tamms.

Here the lifeless body of one of the negroes was found still clutching his revolver. The other negro escaped but is thought to have been shot several times.

SULZER VISITS NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Sept. 12.—Governor William Sulzer left New York for Albany this afternoon, having been in the city since Thursday afternoon, it was learned tonight. His visit was so secret that only a few personal friends and advisors knew he was here. The object of his trip is not known.

TWO ARE KILLED WHEN FREIGHT HITS WAGON

BODIES THROWN FIFTY FEET AND ARE TERRIBLY MANGLED

Companion, Seated in Back Part of Wagon, Saw Freight and Jumped —Victims Fail to Hear Train Because of Noise of Vehicle.

PARKERSBURG, Ia., Sept. 12.—George H. Penelton and Miss Clarice Savage, a school teacher, were instantly killed by a Chicago & Northwestern freight train three miles east of the city this afternoon at 4:30. They were riding in a lumber wagon to which was hitched a team of mules, which were also killed. The view of the track at this crossing is partially obstructed by a corn field, and it is stated the victims failed to hear the approaching train because of the noise of the wagon.

The bodies were thrown a distance of fifty feet, and were horribly mangled. Both were residents of Parkersburg. Miss Savage had completed her first week of the fall term of school and started to walk home when she was invited to ride by Penelton. A companion, seated in the back part of the wagon leading another team, saw the freight train and jumped, escaping injuries.

Miss Savage was to have been married October 16.

Trainmen say the freight was running slowly and the engineer had signalled for the crossing.

A Gearhart, of Aplington, was killed at this same crossing three weeks ago.

Dr. Kumbler has been a member of this conference since 1868.

Dr. Joseph B. Kingsley, president of the board of conference claimants announced that the preachers' aid fund next year would amount to $1,200,000 which is double that of six years ago.

The day was passed in hearing various reports for district superintendents and closing up routine work. The layman's conference opened with 100 delegates in attendance. Both this conference and the main conference will start on the heavy part of the work Saturday morning. A special order of business for tomorrow is the choosing of a place of meeting in 1914. Assignment of ministers will not be announced until Monday or possibly Tuesday.

DIGGS AND HARRIS TAKE STAND IN THEIR OWN BEHALF

Both Deny the Salient Points in the Testimony of Nellie Barton—Jury to Get ase Tuesday.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Both Maury I. Diggs, former state architest, and Attorney Charles B. Harris, of Sacramento, jointly accused of subordination of perjury in connection with the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases, took the witness stand on their own behalf today. Both denied the salient points in the testimony of Nellie Bartin, the young woman who has sworn she was induced to bear instructions to Marsha Warrington as to the story the latter should tell to enable Diggs to escape conviction for violation of the Mann act. While they admitted that Miss Barton had been summoned to a conference with them and that she had been the bearer of a message to Miss Warrington, they stoutly declared that anything savoring of subordination of perjury had not entered the conversation or message.

"I had never heard of the Mann white slave act at the time I talked with Miss Barton," Diggs explained, "and didn't' realize what a mess I was in."

Counsel for both sides announced today that the case would go to the jury by next Tuesday night.

Representative of Order of Railway Trainmen Declares a Member is Killed Every Seven Hours and Fifteen Minutes.

New York, Sept. 12.—A member of the Brotherhood of Trainmen is killed every seven hours and fifteen minutes and every nine minutes a man is maimed."

This was the testimony today of William Lee, representing the Order of Railway Trainmen, at the meeting of the arbitration commission in the controversy between forty-two eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen, over the employes' demands for more pay and shorter hours. When this statement was later challenged by Elisha Lee, counsel for the railroads, William Lee cited statistics from the interstate commerce commission's report. This report on June 30 last gave 3,635 railroads' employes killed in the United States during the year,

MAKE FAST TIME ON TARIFF BILL

Democratic Conferees of Senate and House Make Rapid Progress on Measure

DEFER METAL SCHEDULE

House Conferees Insist Too Much Revenue Is Sacrificed in Metal Schedule---Entire Schedule Is Passed Over

AGREE ON AGRICULTURAL SCHEDULE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Democratic conferees of the senate and the house made rapid progress today on the tariff bill, approving the earthenware and glass schedules, with slight changes, the sugar schedule with its free sugar provision and the date for the new rates extended to March 1, 1914, the tobacco schedule, the wood schedule and all of the agriculture schedule, with the exception of the proposed banana tax and countervailing duty on wheat.

In the metal schedule the conferees struck the first snag and after several hours' discussion, the entire matter was passed over to be taken up later. Majority Leader Underwood and the other house conferees were insistent that the senate's action placing ferro manganese, pig iron, steel ingots, slabs and blooms on the free list should be receded from. They contend that too much revenue is sacrificed and there is a growing opinion that the senate conferees eventually will agree to small revenue duties on the articles.

Agree to Free Cattle.

Contrary to the general expectation, little difficulty was encountered in the agriculture schedule, the house conferees agreeing quickly to free cattle. However, the dispute on the countervailing duty on wheat is yet ot be settled. As to the banana tax, it is generally known that the president thinks it should be striken out. This would men a loss in revenue of approximately two and a half million dollars.

In all the schedules some slight changes were made, the senate receding from amendments where de ate receding from emndmentsunumu creases in rates were made. This policy, it is said, will be maintained through the conference. Mr. Underwood insisting that too much revenue has been cut out of the bill.

In the liquor schedule the general rates were approved, but action on the proposal to put the full international revenue tax on brandies used in fortifying sweet wines was deferred. In the earthenware schedule the senate receded from some of its amendments increasing the rates on higher grades of mica.

Debate Currency Bill.

Progress of the currency bill through the debating stage in the house was marked today by vigorous Republican attacks upon the way the measure was passed by the majority and by a defense from Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, who though he declares the bill was far from perfect and pointed out what he considered were defects in its structure announced that in spite of all its faults he expected to abide by the judgment of his party and vote for its passage. Speech making continued throughout the day and into a night session, with most of the orators addressing a handful of members.

For Americans in Mexico.

In response to an urgent demand from the state department, the house tonight passed a joint resolution making an emergency appropriation of $100,000 to be used for the relief of destitute Americans in Mexico and for their transportaiton to the United States.

Urge Meeting Soon.

Senators Jones and Cummins, of the Progressive Republican committee, which is urging a national convention of the Republican party this fall, decided today to write a letter to Chairman Hilles, of the Republican national committee urging that the committee be called to meet in the near future.

The Progressive Republicans had determined to go to New York to see Mr. Hilles, but changed their plans. Senator Cummins may stop in New York to see him on his return from the west in a few weeks.

Conclude Evidence.

Monday atorneys for the United Mine Workers will present rebuttal witnesses and the inquiry is expected to close soon thereafter.

The last day's effort of the operators was to add more testimony on the point that the srike was caused by he United Mine Workers seeking to carry out their part of an unlawful agreement with operators in West Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to unionize the West Virginia mines.

GAYNOR'S BODY LIES IN STATE IN LIVERPOOL

PAID UNPRECEDENTED HONOR BY OFFICIALS OF CITY OF LIVERPOOL

Body Lies in State at Foot of Grand Stairway in Town Hall, the Coffin Draped With Stars and Stripes and Resting on Catafalque From Westminster Abbey.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 12.—The body of William J. Gaynor lay in state tonight at the foot of the grand stairway of the town hall of Liverpool. It was an unprecedented honor that Liverpool paid the dead legislative of the American metropolis, for never before had any one lain in state in the historic edifice.

Covered with the stars and stripes and with the British union jack draped over its foot, the casket rested on a catafalque brought here from Westminster, London, and on which has reposed the bodies of many of England's most famous men. It was last used at the funeral of Field Marshall Lord Wolseley in St. Paul's cathedral last March.

Candles in the great golden candelabra from West minister Abbey cast a subdued light up the wide stairway and over the detail of picked men from the Liverpool police force, who stood guard all night about the catafalque. John Sutherland Harmood-Banner, lord mayor of the city, who is absent on a vacation, had telegraphed the City of Liverpool to do everything in their power in honor of the dead mayor of New York and they carried out their instructions in minute detail.

Great Crowd Assembles.

When the steamer Baltic on board which Mayor Gaynor died at sea last Wednesday, docked at 8:30 this evening, the landing stage was cleared of all persons except the holders of ticket. A great crowd had assembled outside the dock gates. As soon as the gang plank was run out, Horace L. Washington, the United States consul, accompanied by a delegation from the White Star line, went aboard the ship. In the saloon Mr. Washington met Rufus Gaynor, son of Mayor Gaynor, and expressed condolence on behalf of himself and the lord mayor of Liverpool.

Mr. Gaynor readily assented to the plans of the Liverpool civic authorities for the lying-in-state of his father. Acting on the request of Mr. Washington, the port waived the formalities usual in the landing of the dead from vessels and the body of Mayor Gaynor, in a plain coffin, which was covered by an American flag, was brought ashore as soon as the first class passengers had left the Baltic.

From the dock the coffin was carried to the street, where it was placed in a hearse drawn by four horses, which was followed by the lord mayor's carriage occupied by Rufus Gaynor and Consul Washington. The funeral car, escorted by a squad of mounted police, made its way through a dense crowd of quiet people who uncovered their heads as the hearse passed to the town hall. The hearse was followed on foot by a woman in deep black who had at her side a little girl. The woman declined to give her name, but said she was a friend of Mayor Gaynor from New York. The secretary of the lord mayor, assisted by a delegation of civic dignitaries, received the body at the town hall. When the coffin was placed on the catafalque, one end of it was covered by a beautiful wreath of lilies of the valley bearing the following inscription:

"Deepest sympathy from the lord mayor and citizens of Liverpool."

Another wreath, composed of Easter lillies bore a card inscribed: "The condolences of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lee Washington."

The hall where the body lay was then cleared and Rufus Gaynor was left alone for a few minutes with his dead father. Afterwards Mr. Gaynor was taken to a hotel by Consul Washington.

Sails for New York Today.

Six policemen, who were relieved at intervals stood at attention around the casket all night and will continue this duty until the body is removed from the town hall tomorrow morning for the sailing homeward on the Cunard Line steamer Lusitania, on which a special mortuary chapel has been prepared. Eight uniformed quartermasters will form the guard of honor during the voyage.

Rufus Gaynor tonight was on the point of collapsing from grief and was unable to give further details concerning the death of his father.

The lead of the lord mayor of Liverpool in doing exceptional honors to Mayor Gaynor has been followed generally throughout Liverpool. Flags on public buildings and private buildings were lowered to half-mast today.

Funeral Will Be September 22.

New York, Sept. 12.—Funeral services for the late Mayor Gaynor will be held in Trinity church in this city at 11 o'clock Monday morning, September 22. The services will be public and will be conducted by Bishop Greer, of the New York diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church.

This was decided this afternoon at a conference in the office of Mayor Kline, attended by representatives of city departments and the Gaynor family.

When the Lusitania arrives here September 19, the body will be taken to the Gaynor home in Brooklyn and stay there until Saturday afternoon. Then it will be brought to the city hall, where it will lie in state over Sunday and until the hour for the funeral procession Monday morning.

The striking event of the day in connection with the political complications which have arisen through the death of Mayor Gaynor, who was an independent candidate for re-election, came when the Gaynor campaign managers designated George McAneny, fusion candidate for President of the board of aldermen as their candidate for mayor to take the vacant place on the ticket.

Mr. McAneny, however, promptly declined the honor, declaring he would not accept any nomination in opposition to John Purroy Mitchel, the fusion nominee,

ACTIVITIES SHOW NO IMPROVEMENT

Developments in Mexican Situation Do Not Reassure Lind There Is Any Betterment

HOLDS TWO CONFERENCES

President's Representative Is Keenly Interested in Huerta's Efforts to Secure the Capital of Vera Cruz Banks

TROOPS SEARCHING FOR SMUGGLERS

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 12.—The passage through this port under the eyes of the authorities of men of prominence whose intention presumably it is to join the rebels, the increased activity of the rebels in southern Vera Cruz and Campeche, the discovery of plots in Vera Cruz and rumors of plots undiscovered, together with new dissensions in President Huerta's cabinet which have resulted in resignations, are developments in the Mexican situation which have not reassured John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, that there has been improvement in the general situation.

Mr. Lind had two long conversations today with men who are supposed to be well informed but their information was of the usual pessimistic character.

Mr. Lind is keenly interested in the efforts of President Huerta to secure the local banks' capital of 10,000,000 pesos. No definite statement has been received here that the money has been secured. There is little doubt, however, that Huerta will get at least a part of this money and when this is spent it is reported on good authority that he intends calling upon the state governments to find means for furnishing the central government with 50,000,000 pesos.

Smugglers Are Surrounded.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Sept. 12.—United States troops and state posses hunting the Mexican ammunition smugglers who yesterday shot to death Deputy Sheriff Ortiz, have surrounded the band below Dentonio, Texas, and capture is expected before daylight, according to report to military authorities here from Lieut. Allen at Blockers Crossing. The Mexicans were reported still pushing toward the Rio Grande but their horses were almost exhausted.

Troops Search For Smugglers.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 12.—Acting on orders from General Bliss, all troops stationed on the border between Eagle Pass and Laredo have taken the field in an effort to capture the band of Mexican smugglers who fired on Dimmit county officers yesterday. The soldiers are co-operating with citizen posses which are closing in on the bandits.

From every town near the border, posses are being rushed to the assistance of the troops and Sheriff Gardner. More than one hundred ranchmen are in the field and a battle is expected hourly.

The Mexican outlaws are reported to be commanded by an American. Residents on the border are aroused at the outlaws killing Deputy Sheriff Ortiz, and the treatment of former Sheriff Buck, who was beaten and then released. The ranchmen declare they will lynch the outlaws when captured.

Were Recruited in Texas.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Sept. 12.—General Jesus Carranza, constitutionalist leader, said he had information that the band of smugglers who yesterday fired on Dimmit county officers at Carrizo Springs had been recruited in Dimmit county, Texas, to join Alberto Guajardo's federal forces.

Carranza sent a force to the border town to capture the smugglers should United States troops fail to capture them. He said if captured they would be turned over to Texas for trial if the state desired; otherwise they would be shot by the constitutionalists.

Federal Captain Arrested.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 12.—Captain Santa Ana Caraveo, a Mexican federal officer who is charged with killing Edward Hayes, an American at Madera, Chihuahua, August 15, was arrested in Juarez today by the military authorities in compliance with a request by the American state department for his apprehension. It is charged that Caraveo and his wife rode through the streets of Madero with a band of eight Mexican soldiers seeking Americans and that they shot and killed Hayes and a negro, John Henry Thomas, also an American citizen.

LOCATES HIS MOTHER AFTER TWENTY FIVE YEARS

Charles Cook Finds Parent He Thought Dead in Minneapolis—Had Married Second Time.

A separation of mother and son for 25 years, a string of extraordinary incidents in which the son locates the mother, after years of search, is the experience of Earl Charles Cook of 708 South Center street, Bloomington, Ill., and his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Kramer, of Minneapolis, Minn., the wife of a prominent clothier of that city, says the Bloomington Bulletin. Mr Cook, the son, is baggageman at the New York Central depot in Bloomington.

The Story.

The plot which would be appreciated by a modern fiction writer as good material for a twentieth century novel, is laid in Huntington, Ind., 30 years ago, at the birth of Charles Cook. Mr. George Cook, at that time was an engineer on a railroad. At the time the boy was five years old domestic trouble brought about a separation of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, and the father during the night stole away with his son to Akron, Ind., where they resided with the father's brother, Mr. Albert Cook. In the meantime the mother heard nothing of the destination of the father and son and was left to herself. Thirteen years ago Mr. Cook and his son came to Bloomington, later went into the hack business, and is now running a restaurant on South Main street. In the meantime the son, now 30 years of age, married and has been connected with the New York Central lines as an independent employe for a number of years. He has done everything available and gone to considerable expense to locate his long lost mother. He learned years ago that she was not in Huntington, and not knowing of many relatives on his mother's side he sought information from county and city officials and in many cases was given the information that she was dead.

Gets Information.

In a last effort to know the whereabouts of his mother Earl Cook took advantage of his week's vacation, leaving Bloomington July 28, to go to Huntington, and do what he could to secure the desired information. He was given no encouragement by the city officials, who had only the records of the marriage and birth, and expressed themselves in the belief that the mother had died a number of years ago. Mr. Cook was not discouraged and did not give up the search, but wandered about the city. In picking up an acquaintance with a number of the older people of the city who could probably assist him in his search, Mr. Cook ra nonto a man lounging about the court house, who opened the way to finding his mother. The old man had lived in Huntington for a number of years, proved to have been in the railroad business at the time Mr. Cook's father had been an egineer, and, in fact, had fired for his father. He did not know where the mother was, as she had been gone for a number of years, but directed the son to a cousin of Mr. Cook's on his mother's side who was still living in Huntington, and whose name was Mrs. Mary Henry. Mr. Cook lost no time in locating his cousin's home and an unusual coincidence was staged. When Mr. Cook rapped at the door he was met by his cousin, the introduction followed. At the time Mrs. Henry held in her hand a letter she had received that morning from her aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Kramer, and which she had not finished reading when Mr. Cook called. The letter was the first ever received by Mrs. Henry from Mrs. Kramer and proved to be the long lost mother, who had written her niece for information with regard to her son, who was taken from her in the night and whom she had not seen nor heard from.

The son, overjoyed, returned to Bloomington with the information of his mother's location and at once corresponded with her. The letter was received and opened by Mrs. Kramer's husband at the request of his wife, not suspecting it to be from her son. Mr. Kramer had known of his wife's previous marriage and the confession of Mrs. Kramer followed. In true fiction style all was forgiven, and the reunion of mother and son is expected this week. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kramer have been in correspondence with the young man for several weeks and the pleasant anticipation of the meeting of mother and son after a lapse of 25 years can only be appreciated by them. Mrs. Kramer has been married to Mr. Charles Kramer for the past 19 years. The son is expecting his mother in Bloomington this week.

CHANGE IN ALTON DIVISIONS

The announcement has made this morning transferring the short stretch of track between Roodhouse and Murrayville on the Jacksonville branch of the Alton from the northern to the southern divisions and instructions were issued to send all reports to the southern division offices. A similar change will be made in accounting. The air line and the Roodhouse terminals are under the southern division and as more trains are now passing by way of the air line than the Jacksonville line the changes are advisable.

U. S. LAW STOPS DUCK HUNTING.

The state fish and game commissioners have just given out information which will be of interest to hunters in this city and vicinity. After December 15 there will be no more duck shooting until September 1, 1914. That is to say, spring duck shooting, one of the best sports is done away with entirely. The law is a national one and went into force on July 1. While the hunter may look at the new state law and find nothing to this effect, the law has nevertheless been passed and game wardens will look out for any offenders when the time comes. Ignorance of the law excuses no one. Another important game law which has recently gone into effect is in cutting out the use of trammel nets in the rivers and lakes of this state.

MANY GREET REV. R. F. THRAPP AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Informal Reception For Former Jacksonville Pastor is Largely Attended.

That the people of Jacksonville and the members of Central Christian church cherish warmly the memory of their friend and former pastor, the Rev. Russell F. Thrapp, was amply shown Friday evening when a great throng extended him their warmest welcome. At 6:45 the parlors of the Christian church were in readiness and the orchestra was playing its opening selection and at 7:00 Rev. Mr. Thrapp was busily greeting the many friends of all denominations, made during his long pastorate in Jacksonville. With him in the receiving line were the present pastor, Rev. Mr. Darsie; A. C. Rice, chairman of the board of elders, and Frank Byrns, chairman of the board of deacons. The parlors were appropriately decorated with ferns and palms and nothing seemed lacking to make the occasion an unqualified success except the absence of Mrs. Thrapp, who is detained in Los Angeles by the serious illness of her mother.

Much credit for the success of the reception is due the committee in charge composed of G. B. Andre, G. T. Douglas, C. B. Graff, Frank Plouer, Frank Byrns and D. C. Boxell. The decorations were planned by Miss Minnie Simpson, chairman of the decorating committee. The music was furnished by Johnson's orchestra and the frappe and wafers were served by Misses Helen Mathis, Gladys Andre, Anna Brown and Helen Morris.

POSTAL EMPLOYES CONNIVED AT THEFT OF PEARL NECKLACE

Authorities Decline to Divulge Whether the Guilty Men Belong to the French or English Postoffice.

London, Sept. 2.—That postal employes connived at the theft of the $625,000 pearl necklace, which mysteriously disappeared on June 16, between Paris and London, was established by evidence presented at a hearing today. Whether the guilty employes belong to the French or English postoffice, the authorities decline to divulge at present. Five suspects were arrested September 2.

On the witness stand today a Parisian diamond broker named Quadratstein, who assisted in laying the trap which resulted in bagging the quintette of suspects, testified that Guttworth, one of those arrested, told him it had cost $12,000 to acquire the necklace and that among the recipients of the money were two postmen who received $1,000 each.

Guttworth also t old him that Locket, one of the prisoners, was the man who on July 2, 1909, snatched a bag of jewelry valued at $500,000 from a Paris Jeweler named Goldsmith in a Regent street restaurant.

SUPERINTENDENTS HEARD IN REPORTS

DISTRICTS OF ILLINOIS CONFERENCE ARE FLOURISHING.

New Financial Plan Is Laid Before Body—Whereabouts of Rev. E. A. Weaver to Be Investigated—Dr. Piersol Will Return to Springfield.

By C. R. Morrison.

Shelbyville, Sept. 12 (Special)—A perfect day—from the standpoint of an Illinoian this year of Lord 1913—came in on Friday with a gentle rain and a very general cooling of the atmosphere. The undergradutes and the board of examiners held a very delightful banquet in the gymnasium of the high school on Thursday evening, fifty members being in attendance. W. N. Tobie of Lincoln was toastmaster and short speeches were made by T. N. Ewing of Decatur, E. L. Tobie of East Lynn, who is the honor man of the four years' course of study and other.

Rev. F. C. Bruner of Chicago, former member of Illinois Conference, is present and delivered the annual address before the Woman's Home Missionary society with Mrs. Annie Stover Haywood of Pana as presiding officer.

The business of Thursday's session was dispatched with vigor and five superintendents reported their districts and the character of all the pastors in these five districts were passed except three. J. S. Mulcahy of Casey having surrendered his ordination papers, Dr. Buker, his superintendent, moved that the case be referred to the committee on conference relations. E. A. Weaver of Sadorius, about a month ago left his home to go to Champaign on business and no trace of his whereabouts has been found. His case was referred to his district superintendent, F. B. Madden, for investigation. F. A.Enslow, who was assigned to the church at Witt, in the Decatur district, neglected to go to his assignment, reporting that he was expecting a transfer. Since that time he has asked for a certificate of withdrawal and the conference granted his request. Bloomington, Danville, Mattoon, Champaign, Jacksonville and Decatur were the districts called and effective elder was asked about the presentation of the benevolent collections and the answers were universally "All collections taken" or "all claims presented."

The New Financial Plan.

Dr. Trimble of Kansas City and Rev. J. W. Fort of Michigan were accorded an hour, to lay before the conference, the general conference plan for an every-member canvas with weekly collections, for the local and benevolent claims of the church, and conference commission was named, consisting of five men for each district, to carry into effect the new regulation. The remarkable success of the plan, wherever adopted and worked (but it was suggested that it must be worked, if successful), commended itself to the conference.

Missionary Anniversary.

Dr. J. C. Floyd of the board of foreign missions spoke on the subject of world-wide evangelism at the Thursday evening meeting. He divided time with President Docking of the Rust university, Holly Springs, Miss., who spoke effectively on the Freedmen's aid work in the south and southern education.

Personals.

A strong petition from the official board of the Springfield First church requesting the return of Dr. Piersol, for the fifth year, settles the question as to the pulpit supply there for another year. This will prove both wise and satisfactory. Dr. Piersol is a scholarly and brotherly minister and is greatly loved by this church and people.

Dr. W. H. Webster is present at conference, looking well and pleased to be again at Shelbyville, where he not only attended conference in 1870 and also in 1892, but where as a young man more than 50 years ago he taught school.

Rev. Joseph B. Martin of Atwood, who on account of ill health took a superannuate relation, many years ago, is still doing good in the home field and abroad. He for several years supported several students in the mission schools of China and India and now pays the salary of a native teacher in a school in China organized and sustained by the church for the training of preachers.

The Church of the Minimum.

The four o'clock meetings continue tot be the most popular meetings of the day. Dr. M. S. Rice, spoke on Thursday to a crowded gathering on the "Church of the Minimum", in which he deplored the tendency to believe, to serve and to trust only along the line of the minimum. "The church of the maximum" was his there for Friday and in it he emphasized the great things possible for all men, and churches, that measured up to the highest standard. "The church", he said, "is never so strong as when it stands face to face with the impossible, and begins to do it! For we have (not still have) but have God.

Morning Talks of Bishop McDowell

These also call out, early in the morning at 5:30 a great crowd of ministers and laymen. Love for the truth, love for men, for souls even of the unlovely, was the burden of his address on Friday. It was greatly appreciated. He had the old Methodist hymn "Roll 'round with the years" sang three times at this session. He likes it and likes the day the conference sings it with W. S. Phillips, as leader.

ACCUSED FORGER IS ON THE VERGE OF A MENTAL BREAKDOWN

Continues to Refuse Bail Because of His Fears for His Personal Safety if Seen on the Street.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 12.—James C. O'Conner, real estate man accused of forgeries aggregating $200,000, is on the verge of a mental breakdown, according to physicians who attended him today. O'Conner continues to refuse bail because of his fears for his personal safety if seen on the street.

Under the bankruptcy law, these persons will have to return their money and take their chances with the other creditors.

State's Attorney Robert Martin declared that financial payment in full will not prevent the prosecution of O'Conner for forgery. Numerous small investors holding worthless notes today added to the number who had complained against O'Conner.

FRANCIS D. DAY IDENTIFIES MURDERED WOMAN AS HIS SISTER

Possibility That She May Be Anette Day Develops After Prolonged Conference.

New York, Sept. 12.—The possibility that the victim of the river murder parts of whose dismembered body have been picked up in the Hudson river and adjacent waters during theh last few days may be Anette Day a missing young woman of Brooklyn, developed tonight at police headquarters after a prolonged consultation between officials there and Francis D. Day, a real-estate man of this city, brother of the missing girl.

Day positively indentified the body in the morgue as that of his sister Annette but the police were not entirely convinced of the accuracy of the identification. Day said his sister had been in love with a Brooklyn physician who recently left the city.

"While we do not approve of militant tactics for this country," the resolutions stated, "we recognize Mrs. Pankhurst as being a soldier in the war for liberty. DEPORTS FIFTY HINDUS.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Residence in the Philippines or other possessions of the United States does not carry with it for aliens the provisions of admission to this country, according to Commissioner of Immigration Anthony Caminetti, who directed today the deportation of fifty Hindus who have been held at the immigration station at Angel Island. The Hindus claimed the right to enter the United States because they had come from the Philippines.

Commissioner Caminetti based his ruling on the precedent established recently by a federal court in Seattle, Wash. Twenty-three Hindus were ordered deported from that port.

MONKS RESCUE AMERICAN.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—Monks, guided by the barkings of their St. Bernard dogs today rescued a young American named G. Dawson from a precarious position in a ravine into which he had fallen during an Alpine climb. Dawson had attempted to crass a pass without a guide and fell into the ravine. He was not injured except for a badly sprained ankle and shock, but the ravine was off the usual travel route and it is impossible to tell how long he might have lain there had not he dogs brought the monks to the rescue.

REFEREE STOPS BOUT.

SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Scarcely any Hair on Head. Terrible Itching. Also Bothered With Pimples and Blackheads on Face. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Both Troubles.

Greenwood, Ind. — "First my hair began to fall, then my scalp itched and burned when I became warm. I had pimples on my scalp; my hair was falling out gradually until I had scarcely any hair on my head. I couldn't keep the dandruff off at all. My hair was dry and lifeless and I lost rest at night from the terrible itching sensation. I would pull my hair off and scratch my head any place I happened to be.

"For several years I was bothered with pimples on my face. Some of them were hard red spots, some were full of matter, and many blackheads. I was always picking at them and caused them to be sore. They made my face look so badly I was ashamed to be seen.

"I tried washing my head with Cuticura Soap, dried without rinsing, then put the Cuticura Ointment on and rubbed it into the scalp. I applied the Cuticura Soap and Ointment the same each week until cured. Three months' use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment has made my face as smooth and clean as can be." (Signed) C. M. Hamilton, Sept. 24, 1912.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

Two Women Tell How They Escaped the Surgeon's Knife by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Swarthmore, Penn. — "For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health now. I am all over the Change of Life and cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every woman should take it at that time. I recommend it to both old and young for female troubles." — Mrs. EMILY SUMMERSGILL, Swarthmore, Pa.

Baltimore, Md. — "My troubles began with the loss of a child, and I had hemorrhages for four months. The doctors said an operation was necessary, but I dreaded it and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has made me a well woman and I feel strong and do my own work." — Mrs. J. R. PICKING, 1260 Sargent St., Baltimore, Md.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

PUBLIC LIBRARY BOARD HOLDS REGULAR SEPTEMBER SESSION

Miss Webber's Plans for Year of Activity Are Endorsed—Reading Circles Proposed.

The September meeting of the public library board was held Friday afternoon. The business transacted was mainly routine in character and consisted in the approval of reports and the discussion of minor repairs. The board, however, took important action in approving the suggestions made by Miss Webber in her plans for the year's work.

The board also made the special request of Miss Webber that with the course of addresses at the library this winter that she utilize one evening herself in talking about the library and how to use it. During the summer Miss Webber and Miss Anne Jackson prepared lists of references for every subject to be discussed by the principal literary clubs of the city. These reference lists represent a vast amount of work and will be of great assistance to the club workers.

The special report made by Miss Webber gives a clear idea of the wide scope of library work which she is seeking and is of general interest. The report says:

The Work by Months.

"Plans for the fall and winter are being made rapidly. As usual, September will be given largely to the opening of school and club work. October will bring many small groups of high school students for instruction on the use of the library. November and December will be given to the Christmas exhibit, which grows in favor every year. During all these months the matter of Tuesday night lectures and plans for other extension work will be receiving attention.

"A series of book reviews has been asked for and an effort will be made to procure them. The women have requested more talks on home problems with recommendations of books helpful to them. It is hoped that some practical talks of interest to men may be provided. The subjects now under consideration are: Salesmanship, advertising and merchandising, insurance, financial talk, i. e., some phase of the financial organization of the country, or the currency bill, etc. Another talk on the improvement of the home grounds. Suggestions as to subjects and speakers are needed and members of the board are especially urged to make them.

Story Telling for Children.

"For several years there has existed a need for reading aloud or story telling for the children, but the proper persons could not be found to help with the work. It is impossible for those regularly employed in the library to give time to this work further than to plan the readings and select the stories. This year four young women have been secured to help with the plan and their time is being enthusiastically volunteered. The plan is to have a half hour, at least, each school day, the reading to be done in the lecture room and the stories will include the best in mythology, folklore, hero tales, classic adventure and poetry. The children will be grouped as follows: Fourth grade boys and girls; fifth grade boys and girls; sixth and seventh grade girls; sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys; eighth grade and first year high school girls. For these older girls the plan is to provide the reading of the very best poetry and to have it given to them by the best readers that the town affords. Much has been done for the reading of the boy and and the greatest problem in all libraries is the girl who is tired of the books in the children's room and who finds in the main library nothing for which she cares except the modern novel. The older boys remain in the children's room longer than the girls and in the main library they find more to interest them than do the girls.

Reading Circles Proposed.

"Two people have volunteered to help with small reading circles for working girls. These would be held in the evenings and would be limited to very small groups—probably not more than six or eight. Several girls employed in the stores have been interviewed in the past year and there is a distinct desire for such an opportunity.

"The lecture room is heated and receives janitor service constantly and it should be put to some real use. The hour chosen for the readings would be that which would interfere the least with the holding of committee meeting, etc. Such meetings are nearly always called for 3 o'clock and can be over before the room is needed for the children. The east door will be opened and there will be no added confusion on the stairs of the main library.

"For two years an effort has been made to secure a few talks on practical mechanics for the boys and it now seems likely that two talks may be given on the flying machine and one on the automobile.

The staff will include Miss Ausbury, Miss McLoughlin, William Ketner. It is possible that Lola Markillie will help an hour in the day in the children's room and likely that Miss Louise Gates will volunteer her services. Both these will be of great assistance since Lola Markillie has helped Miss Lutkemeyer all summer and Miss Gates know much about the library and is a young woman with a background of much college work and splendid reading."

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dresed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist.—Adv.

EVENTS OF WEEK SPELL PROGRESS

MOST OF HAPPENINGS ARE ALONG FAVORABLE LINES.

Issuing of Government Crop Report, Breaking of Drouth, Ending of Tariff Uncertainty, and Expansion in Jobbing Trade Are Among Features of the Week—Lower Temperatures Helps Retail Trade.

New York, Sept. 12.—Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

"The events of the week spell progress along generally favorable lines. Chief among features were the expansion in fall jobbing trade, breaking of the drought in the corn belt, too late to enlarge the yield but checking further deterioration and helpful to late forage crops; pastures, stock water supplies and fall seeding; the ending, generally speaking, of the tariff uncertainty by the passage of that bill in the senate; the realization, through the government report, of a record yield of wheat, and of average yields of most other crops except corn; lower temperatures, stimulating retail trade; and enlarged movements of cotton and spring wheat, which tend to improve collections in sections affected, though room for further improvement is still ample. Enlargement in jobbing trade is reported from eleven leading markets.

Business failures for the week were 258 which compares with 234 last year."

Dun's Weekly Review.

New York, Sept. 12.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"Restraint upon business through tariff uncertainty is virtually at an end and merchants and manufacturers appear to be of a hopeful disposition. Expansion is not general as yet but signs of trade revival are gradually becoming more apparent and less hesitancy is shown in providing for forward requirements.

"The low position of merchandise stocks throughout the country is one of the most encouraging features as the growing demands necessitate increased purchases to replenish depleted supplies. With the approach of the fall season advices from the leading centers record a quickened wholesale and retail movement, the volume of sales in most instances being in excess of last year's."

New York, Sept. 12.—Bradstreets' bank clearings report for the week ending September 11 shows an aggregate of $3,028,228,000 as against $2,830,338,000 last week and $3,078,123,000 in the corresponding week last year.

HAVE GOOD CORN CROPS.

W. T. Fanning was showing yesterday with commendable pride an ear of large white corn picked at random from an acre and a half he has in South Jacksonville. He says the men cutting it were certain it would yield a hundred bushels to the acre. It is of a white variety but he couldn't be sure as to the name but the sample was splendid corn. He said he cultivated it seven times, three times with a single plow.

Carl and Wilbur Hembrough have a forty acre field of corn second year out of sod that will likely yield 75 bushels to the acre. It is fine grain and looks well.

Henry Perbix of the Chapin neighborhood has a sixty acre field of corn which he believes will yield fully sixty bushels to the acre. He has men now at work cutting this corn and putting it in the shock as it is fully matured. Corn cutting is already in progress in a number of instances and in various parts of the county silos are being filled. Many silos are in course of erection, too, as farmers are coming to the opinion that by means of silos they are able to save a great deal of fodder which would otherwise go to waste.

WORK PROGRESSES WELL IN THE CITY SCHOOLS

Attendance Is About Normal In Spite of Hot Weather During Opening Days—Repairs Needed in Second Ward.

Thursday a Journal reporter visited all the ward school buildings in the city and noted the beginnings that were being made in the work of teaching the young and rising generation of Jacksonville. Of course not anything like a thorough inspection was made but simply an attempt to ascertain the fundamental facts pertaining to the work.

Independence School.

At this school Miss Andrews was found with her 28 little folks all bent on getting their lessons and making the best possible use of their time. The school room had been painted and varnished during the summer vacaton and all was neat and in good order and a general feeling of courage and enthusiasm prevailed.

The Jefferson School.

At the First ward school the new principal, Miss Clara Cobb, seems to be the right person in the right place. She has the work well in hand and evidently the hearty good will and co-operation of all the teaching force. Her office has been recently fitted with nice, new furniture and curtains and looks quite inviting. The opening exercises were well conducted and all seemed propitious for a successful school year.

The Lafayette School.

Miss Agnes Paxton is and has been the capable principal of the Lafayette school for several years. The enrollment is good and all work moving along successfully at the beginning of the school year. The building is in need of considerable work inside in the way of paint and plaster and a few metal ceilings would be in order, but Mr. Bavington, the member of the board of education for that ward, says the council had failed to certify the $5,000 repair fund asked for and that no repairs can be made at present.

The Morton School.

At the Third ward branch the reporter was kindly received, as everywhere else. The visitor called at the various rooms and found the teachers all busily engaged in their work and the children happy and willing to learn. The building seemed cool though the day was rather hot and conditions were pleasant. The building needs some interior adornments badly. In several places the plastering has been repaired and the glaring white spots compare rather unfavorably with the rest of the walls. The equipment is all right and good work may be expected.

The Franklin School.

The Franklin school is quite pleasantly situated and is well filled with the members of the young and rising generation. In fact, there is no indication of any race suicide there and the rooms are crowded, making in nearly all cases too much work for a teacher. All were zealously at work doing their level best and Mrs. Dunlap and the force with her may be depended on to accomplish all that is possible. The building could be considerably improved by paint and other interior adornments, though the welfare of the children is well looked after and the general equipment is good.

Washington School.

When the reporter reached the Washington school he found Miss Lusk the principal in conference with Supt. Gore. There are always questions coming up and the one under consideration was that of granting permission to a boy who had spent all his school life in the building and wanted to continue though his parents had moved to another ward. The building and grounds are in good order and there is every evidence of a good work and a good spirit generally.

The city schools are beginning work under favorable conditions. Hot weather has interfered somewhat but not seriously and generally the school buildings seem reasonably cool and comfortable.

REMEMBER THE OPENING of L. C. & R. E. Henry September 16th-18th when the finest millinery will be seen.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I wsa taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others tuat I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)

James Beekman, third trick operator at the Burlington office, has resigned and gone home and his place has been taken by A. G. Harlan, general substitute along the line.

Taylor Agnew second trick operator at the Burlington office, is enjoying a short visit with friends in Waverly.

Frank Arnold passenger brakeman on the Burlington and residing at Beardstown is here with his wife and baby for a visit with Mrs. Arnold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Long on Lafayette avenue.

E. C. Strandberg, C. P. & St. L. baggage man, went to St. Louis yesterday for a visit with his brother, A. L. Strandberg.

E. C. Stahl of Peoria and representing the Star Union Refrigerator Line was in the city yesterday.

Roy Brown, Chicago & Alton brakeman and residing at Roodhouse is visiting his parents in this city.

Mrs. W. W. Rogers of El Paso, Texas left for her home yesterday by the Alton and Santa Fe after a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. J. M. Beerup of this city.

S. W. Burke left yesterday by the Alton for St. Louis.

C. Malone of Springfield, traveling auditor of the C. P. & St. L., was in the city yesterday on official duties.

John Smith, pumping man at the C. P. & St. L. shops, went to Chandlerville yesterday to raise water there as is his custom every other day.

A very popular man is George Ingram, superintendent of the C. P. & St. L. car shops of this city. One of the men remarked yesterday to a Journal reporter, not thinking his words would be repeated, "What Mr. Ingram doesn't know about the work is hardly worth knowing. He is everything at once, can do any part of the work himself and is never afraid of grease or dirt either. He can build an engine from the ground and knows all about every other department and the men all like him fine."

The small pump house at the C. P & St. L. yards burned recently. There was nothing doing in it at the time and the cause of the fire is a mystery. The damage to machinery was about $100.

Locomotive No. 5 is about ready to leave the C. P. & St. L. shops and No. 58 will go in for an overhauling.

The recent rain pretty effectually extinguished the fire which has been smouldering in the trash pile at the C. P. & St. L yards.

Caught a Bad Cold.

"Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Ia. "We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that one bottle stopped his cough and cured his cold completely." For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)

BOUT BETWEEN GUNBOAT SMITH AND LANGFORD WILL NOT BE HELD

Athletic Commission Refuses to Rescind Rule Prohibiting Fights Between White and Negro Pugilists.

New York, Sept. 12.—There will be no bout between Gunboat Smith and Sam Langford as proposed at Madison Square garden on Sept. 19, nor at any other time, as long as the New York State Athletic commission as now constituted exists. At a special meeting of the commission here today Jim Buckley and Joe Woodman, respectively managers of Smith and Langford, requested that the rule adopted last year prohibiting bouts between white and negro pugilists be rescinded. The commissioners, however, refused to change the rule, at the same time giving the applicants to understand that for the best interests of the sport the prohibition of such bouts had worked well in this state.

KILLED IN QUARREL.

Hollister, Mo., Sept. 12.—Hamilton White was shot and instantly killed and his son Alvin was seriously wounded by Claude Linsey in a fight on the main street here late tonight. The dispute which led to the shooting concerned a debt of $2.50. Linsey was arrested and placed in jail at Branson, Mo., for safe keeping.

CANADIAN IS DEPORTED.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 12.—Martin H. Powell, arrested here in connection with the $372,000 bank robbery at New Westminster, B. C., lost a year's fight against extradition today and was deported to Windsor, Ont., where he was turned over to Canadian authorities who will take him to New Westminster. Powell was arrested here in July, 1912.

Those colored champions, the Leland Giants of Chicago, are "cleaning up" everything they entertain upon their present trip through this state. At present they are going over the line of the Illinois Central, a route which has some good teams.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

The present eastern trip has been a most disastrous one to the aspirations of Joe Birmingham and his Naps. The slaughtering they received at the national capital has put Griffith within easy reach of second place—a station he will actually acquire before bell-tap unless there is a sudden brace in western division clubs.

New Jersey's militia was the whole show upon the opening day of the twenty-third annual international and interstate shooting tournament. The Second infantry, national guard, captured the Columbia trophy match, scoring 829 in 900. The Third New Jersey was second with 818, and the Third New Jersey first team was third with 813. In the individuals Sergeant Major Muller of the Third scored a possible 50 out of 50 at 1,000 yards, another 50 at 600 yards and 47 at 200 yards.

Racing fever is now running high at Lexington, Ky., the home of the thoroughbred and the famous blue grass. At the present running meeting the fields are unusually small, while but five carded events appear to be the limit. Racing in Kentucky is controlled by a state commission and all events are strictly on the level. The Colonels, however, fail to take to the pari-mutual system of speculation.

Paddy McHale in his first full game in a Yankee uniform had easy sailing against the Browns. He allowed but four hits and issued two passes for a shutout.

Los Angeles Federation of Churchmen at a meeting a few days ago formulated plans for a state-wide fight upon the present system of boxing contests in California. The federation also has had drafted a bill governing all boxing bouts which will be presented to the legislature at an extra session, to be called just as quickly as the initiative petition now in circulation can be completed. This bill contains rigid restrictions for amateur bouts and fixes a limit of four rounds for any one contest. By its provisions all professionals will be barred from the state.

Earl Pickering, former star back field man and captain of the University of Minnesota football team, was married to Miss Bessie Yale in Minneapolis on Tuesday. This fall he will coach the University of Arkansas team and after the close of the season he will bid the gridiron farewell and with his bride will make his home at Ekalaka, Mont., where he has established a lucrative law practice.

* * *

Horace Leverett, at one time a candidate for a big league try as a hurler, was on Thursday given a long-sought release in a Minneapolis divorce court. His wife Hadaia, when matters baseball were breaking bad for him deserted him and it was upon the grounds of desertion that he secured his freedom. Minneapolis early in the season farmed him on the Northern league.

* * *

President Heilbroner of the Central league has announced that there will be no change in his circuit during 1914. The organization will continue to be a six club league. He says there is no foundation for the rumor that the organization will be increased to eight clubs.

Coleman, whose debut into the big show at Pittsburgh a few months ago was hailed with brass bands and much other noise in the home of the smoky millionaires, has been farmed to the Senators of Columbus, Ohio. When Mike Simon recovered from his streak of ivory and with Gibson and Kelly going fairly well, there was no harbor in the ranks of the Pirates for the Bubbly Creek recruit.

* * *

Police officials have crabbed the so-called wrestling tournament at Forest Park, a suburb west by northwest from Chicago. The village president figures that anything which is too rank for Mayor Harrison's bailiwick will not be shifted to his domain as a harbor for conscienceless, sure-thing grabbers of the easy mazuma.

* * *

Big Ed Reulbach is quite sore on Chicago. He not only walloped the Cubs on Thursday by superior hurling, but he pulled a bit of inside play that Evers and his chums believed the discard incapable of. The infield was playing in close for Ed at bat. He highballed a Brooklynite at third and then bunted a slow roller along the first base line, scoring his teammate, and had he been able to keep pace with a snail would have been safe himself. After the game he announced to friends that at the end of the season he was going to move, dog and all, to the seat of Gowanus canal.

* * *

It is getting to be an old, old story, but Come-back Fiene, through superior hurling and capital slugging, captured another game for Minneapolis; against Toledo this time in the first of a double header. In the second game Joe Lake, a recent Detroit discard, would have had a no-hit game to his credit had he not got his glove in the way of a hit from Kirk's bat, the ball skidding off out of reach of Altizer, shortstop, who undoubtedly could have handled it easily for an out.

That American association race just now is rather uncomfortable for Mrs. Havenor's band of Brewers. The Millers are seearated from them only by an eyelash.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.—Benjamin Franklin.

Short Cuts to Thrift.

One of the things that can be utilized by the thrifty housekeeper is the ever present, despised string which comes around bundles and packages. Tie the strings together, making fairly large knots and being careful not to trim off the ends—the more irregular the better. Then with a pair of coarse needles knit into bath mats. If you are fortunate in having a variety of colors, by judicious blending they can be made to look strikingly like some of the Turkish rugs, especially if you use the gilt cord which comes around boxes of confectionery. They are not only serviceable, but have the added merit of washing forever. All of the colors are fast except pink. As most of the strings now in use in the shops are white the ends of the rugs can be made any desired color, either by dyeing or by making of balls of solid color, costing about 5 cents apiece.

Another economy consists in saving all the odds and ends of soap excepting the coarsest kitchen kinds. When you have about a quart put on the stove to melt, adding a pint of warm water. As soon as these become thoroughly melted stir in a scant pint of oatmeal or oatmeal flakes—the kind used for porridge. Keep stirring until dissolved—only a few minutes if hot—then add a tablespoonful of extract of almond. Turn into a pan to harden. When cool cut into cakes. This soap is not attractive in appearance, as it becomes rather dark, but it has a curative property and rapidly heals chapped hands, rendering them smooth and white.

Glove fingers make splendid protection for the stems of flowers, especially if the flowers are fresh and worn pinned to a white dress. Save the fingers, insert the flower stems in them and pin to dress and no dampness or stain will injure the most delicate dress.

As every woman knows, the legs of stockings are being torn out continually to the detriment of her patience and pocketbook. But do not discard the stockings, no matter how badly torn. Lay two together, fold over and over, putting a layer of newspaper in one fold, sew the edges together and you have a mighty good iron holder.

An excellent floor mop may be made from old stockings in this manner: Slash them in strips an inch wide, forming a fringe. Stitch several thicknesses of this to a strip of cloth three inches wide and ten inches long. Machine stitching is best. Saturate this with a good furniture polish and fasten in a mop stick. By using this daily upon hardwood floors they are kept free from dust and given a beautiful polish.

HOW TO ANCHOR PORCH TABLE COVERS.

Whoever may be blessed with an airy porch will be glad to know that she may keep the table covers in place by weighting them.

Sew in each corner a piece of muslin about an inch square, making it like a little pocket, open at one end. Slip into each pocket a metal weight about the size of a quarter, such as tailors use for weighting coats. When the cover needs washing it will be easy to remove the weights.

The comfort of finding the covers on the tables and not on the porch floor will be the reward you will reap for the little trouble you have taken.

How to Clean White Feathers.

White feathers of any kind, especially white willow plumes, can be cleaned at home to look like new at a very small cost.

Take one quart of gasoline and 5 cents' worth of plaster of paris and mix together to the consistency of whipped cream. Dip the feathers in this mixture several times and squeeze and pat them for a few minutes. Then hang up in the open air to dry thoroughly and until all the gasoline has evaporated. Remember never to use gasoline in a room with a light or fire. It is very explosive.

How to Rest the Eyes.

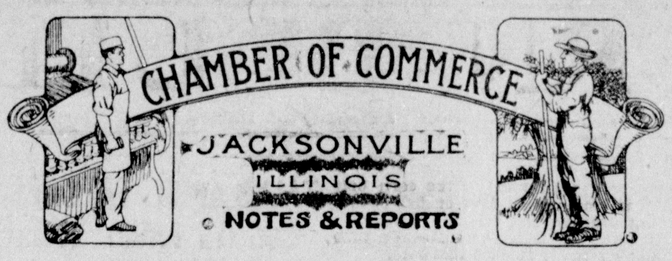

To relieve the fatigue of the eyes after a long day spent out of doors bathe them with a warm solution of boracic acid, soaking pads of absorbent wool in the lotion and laying them over the eyes for a few minutes, changing them two or three times. This rests and soothes them and restores their brightness.

How to Mend Lace Curtains.

Take strips of net the right size or good parts of old curtains and dip them into hot starch. Apply these pieces to the worn places while the starch is hot and they will adhere and will not show as much as darns would.

How to Boil a Cracked Egg.

To prevent the contents of a cracked egg from boiling out gently rub the crack with damp salt before immersing the egg in water, and allow time for the salt to penetrate.

A LIVE BUSINESS MAN IN ANY COMMUNITY IS LIKE THE ITCH IN THE DISTRICT SCHOOL. HE MAKES ALL THE REST START SCRATCHING.

With the announcement that all the business houses will make next Thursday the formal opening day of the fall season, should prove a strong drawing card to bring the residents down town and non-residents into town. This arrangement by which one date can be agreed upon as Fall Opening Day is a splendid advertising opportunity to make September 18th as much a Show Day as Sept. 16th.

Windows and counters will display alike all the latest fall styles of fashions, and the square should be as crowded with sight seers and prospective buyers as it is with holiday shoppers.

The Chamber of Commerce in promoting such a "Trade Day" does it in order that the retail merchandising houses of Jacksonville will attract the out of town customers and open up the fall trade with a big hurrah!

The Retail Merchant's Journal.

The Secretary often has noticed that this Journal which one hundred and twenty-five retailers receive monthly in the city often finds itself buried in a heap of other periodicals or lost in some out of the way place.

This magazine is published for the benefit of the retailer, and the merchants who do not continually study the experience of other live merchants in other cities is failing to keep up to date in merchandising his goods.

Read the Journal and use the Association credit ratings for you are the loser if you do not.

"Our Visitors This Week"

With the auspicious closing of the Christian Church Convention which was brought here and loyally entertained by the people of that denominatiaon over five-hundred vistiors from sixty-three counties go home to advertise Jacksonville. The hotel men and restaurant men were not alone benefitted and the money which was left in this community should make every business man contribute their proportionate share in making Jacksonville the hostess of other conventions.

This is just one of the many activities which the Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to promote for the business men who are members of the Chamber of Commerce and the others who should be members.

JAMES J. HILL MAKES "Q." PAY HIM WELL.

Ever Since He Gained Control Road Has Paid 11 Per Cent Dividend or Better.

The Burlington railroad, known as a granger road, has a most varied tonnage. Over 32 per cent of the total freight tonnage consists of bituminous coal, while grain and other agricultural products toal about 20 per cent.

The company has a very heavy coal traffic northbound from the Indiana and southern Illinois coal fields and by making attractive rates, has established keen competition to the rail and lake routes from Ohio and West Virginia.

Burlington added to its reputation by earning about 17.4 per cent upon the capital stock in the fiscal year ended June 30 last. It was the most prosperous year in the company's history. This estimate is based upon "other income" interests, rentals, etc., from the previous year.

James J. Hill secured control of the property about fifteen years ago by guaranteeing the stockholders an 8 per cent dividend and they had been getting 6 per cent. The road has been earning all the way from 11 per cent up since he acquired the financial management.

MRS. GENEVIEVE CLARK WILSON

The addition of Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson, a singer and teacher of national reputation, to the faculty of the Illinois College Conservatory of Music presents an unusual opportunity to the music students of Jacksonville. Many students from both the city and distant places have already reserved time with Mrs. Wilson. Students who wish to confer with Mrs. Wilson can make appointments by calling Director Kritch or President Rammelkamp. Both phones 454.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS.

Consumers of water are hereby requested to desist from the use of city water for the sprinkling of lawns or streets adjacent to their homes until the drouth is broken. The department can continue to supply good clean water for ordinary uses, but if extra demands are made for outside purposes it will be necessary to mix lake water with the present supply. W. H. Cobb,
Water Superintendent.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.

A good roads meeting was held Friday night in Arenzville and was quite well attended. A. L. French and John W. Clary made brief talks and the principal speaker was H. C. Wilhite of Greenfield, who explained what is being attempted by the projectors of the Burlington way and some of the advantages which should acrue to people along the way. The subject was of particular interest to the people of Arenzville, because the only portion of the "Burlington Way" which has not yet been determined upon is that between Jacksonville and Beardstown. This may be outlined from Jacksonville to Virginia and then to Beardstown or from Jacksonville to Concord, Arenzville and Beardstown. The Arenzville people naturally want to see the latter route followed.

James W. Breckon left yesterday for Shelbyville where he is to speak before the laymen's section on the topic, "The church and the layman."

WHO IS IT?

C. N. Priest.

The Ford man. He told you some time ago that he had a message for you. Here it is. "He has 'em." What? New prices of Ford car for 1914, effective August 1, 1913. Touring car, $575.00; runabout, $525.00; town car $575.00; delivered at your door. Don't get these prices confused with what some one tells you about buying three cars for $1,000, and all that for such is not the case. And don't be a back number and go on the road without first having your car equipped with lightening puncture cure. The very thought of punctures does away with the pleasures of the trip.

GUARANTEED to sop all punctures at once.

Ask the Ford man about it and get the truth. Garage and salesroom, 229-31 East Morgan street, Jacksonville, Ill.

SUM IRONING COST FIGURES ARE COMPARED

EXPERIMENTS PROVE POTTS' IRONS CAN BE USED ECONOMICALLY.

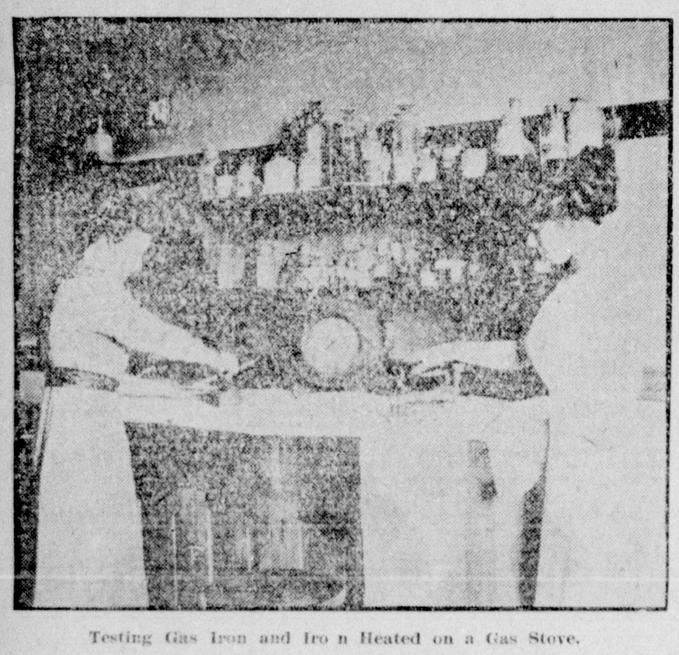

Electricity More Costly Than Gas Is Decision After Experiments In Physics Department at the University—Charcoal an Unsatisfactory Fuel.

(By Edith Allen, University of Ill.)

Results of an experiment carried on under direction of E. H. Warren, physics department.

In this experiment to determine cost and efficiency of laundry irons five kinds were tested—common flat irons, those known as Mrs. Potts' irons, a charcoal, a gas and an electric iron.

The charcoal iron proved very unsatisfactory. It scattered bits of charcoal on the clothes and sparks flew out which seemed dangerous. Much time was consumed in getting the charcoal to burn and in heating the iron. Charcoal that was especially prepared for this iron was used so this was no fault of the fuel. On being used the iron cooled very rapidly so that it would only do a few minutes work at a time.

Testing Gas Iron and Iron Heated on a Gas Stove.

The average cost of heating an electric iron was found to be 9.9 cents an hour; while for the gas iron it was only 2-5 of a cent. Two Potts irons heated on a gas stove showed an average cost of about 1.1 cents an hour. The cost of heating common irons proved to be the same as the Potts irons.

The amount of labor exerted was the greatest for the Potts and common irons, as these had to be lifted to and from the stove; next for the gas iron, as it had to be placed on an iron stand while the clothes were being folded or moved; while for the electric iron, it was least, as this could be stood on end while not in use. This disadvantage in the gas iron could be overcome very easily by the manufacturer.

In the above tests the amount of ironing accomplished during the time that the experiments were conducted was almost the same in each case, as everything was made as convenient as possible for the work, no time being lost in walking to and from the gas stove or in turning off and on the gas and electricity. Time and strength expended in carrying irons across a room because of inconvenience is much more likely to occur when irons are heated on a stove of any kind, whether gas, gasoline, oil or wood. This loss, often, is more important than the differences in cost of heating the irons. For example, if a woman who is hired to iron for twenty cents an hour, loses half a minute every four to five minutes in changing the handle to the Potts iron from the cold one to the hot one, and in carrying them back and forth to the stove, she does it at a loss of two cents worth of her time per hour.

Cost of Operation.

In comparison with the cost of operating the electric iron this loss on the worker's wages under average conditions would in a measure cover the cost of operating the electric iron. While the poorest conditions of operation make the electric iron the cheaper—and at a less expenditure of the worker's strength.

The gas iron could not be used with natural gas.

There is no danger from soot, smoke and grease in using gas or electric irons. All these irons were found to be perfectly safe. The heat in a gas iron is regulated the same as on gas stoves, by turning it higher and lower. However, if too much gas is turned on the pressure of the gas will blow out the flame, just as it sometimes will do on a gas stove. Even electric irons must have common sense applied to their use, for they are not proof against burning out. The heat for the electric iron is regulated by turning the current off and on as the iron gets too hot or cold. A three heat arrangement attached might be an advantage and save some of the cost of using this iron.

Reducing Weights.

Some operators object to the tube of the gas iron and the cord of the electric iron. As the two are nearly equal in weight per unit length and they are, also of almost equal diameter, any annoyance due to either is the same when used under similar conditions. This can be reduced to a minimum in both cases by the following arrangement. The inlet or chandelier to which the tube or cord is attached ought to be above the ironing board and a spring attached to take up the slack in the tube or wire as the iron is moved backward and forward. This keeps the cord or tube out of the worker's way, otherwise they may be of great annoyance.

In the fololwing table the cost of electricity has been computed at 12 cents per kilowatt hour and gas at $1.00 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Electric—Kilowatts electricity used per hour, .194; cost of ironing one hour, .0591.

Gas iron—Cubic feet used per hour, 4.00; cost of ironing one hour, .0040.

Mrs. Potts—Cubic feet, 11.20 per hour; cost of ironing per hour, .0112.

(2 irons on gas stove.)

Summary.

1. The cost of the electric iron is five times that of the Potts irons heated on a gas stove and fifteen times that of the gas iron.

2. The cost of ironing with the Potts or common irons is increased in comparison with the gas and electric irons by the amount of time and energy expended in using them.

ALFALFA GROWERS MUST STUDY SOIL CONDITIONS

DUPAGE COUNTY ADVISER LAYS DOWN SOME RULES FOR OBSERVANCE.

Good Drainage Is One of First Essentials to Successful Growth—Lime Content Must Be in Soil—Inoculation With Sweet Clover Brings About Best Results.

(By E. B. Heaton, County Adviser, Dupage County).

Article I.

Alfalfa growing in its main essentials is but little different from the growing of all the clover plants. In a country where grown but a few years the treatment as for all new crops must necessarily be with more care. For this reason those who are trying to grow this most valuable hay crop in the corn belt states must study the local conditions carefully and adopt the most practical methods. The study of soil chemistry and bacteriology have not been appreciated by the corn belt farmer in the growing of corn as much as they will be and should be in the production of a successful alfalfa hay crop.

A well drained ,sweet soil, inoculated with the proper nitrogen gathering bacteria are the essentials for success in alfalfa growing most commonly neglected by the beginner. He may have a good seed bed prepared at the proper time and good seed planted at the right season, together with good after care, but if the first three essentials mentioned are neglected the beginner in a majority of cases will fail and join the ranks of those who say alfalfa will not grow on their farms.

Well Drained Soil.

By a well drained soil we mean one either naturally or artificially drained in such a way there is no free water standing longer than a few days after a heavy rainfall in the surface four feet of soil. A heavy clay soil of great depth must have artificial drainage through the use of drain tile, but a soil with a gravelly or sandy sub-soil is generally well drained naturally unless in a low depression or slough. Alfalfa will not live in standing water and since half the alfalfa is root growth the free water in the soil must be removed before the plant can live. The alfalfa roots go down into the ground many feet and consequently this plant will do the best of any plant we can grow on the dry gravelly hill tops and on all the higher lands.

Must Have Good Lime Content.

The soil must be sweet or in other words it must have a good lime content. A hill top with a limestone clay and gravel composition makes a very good alfalfa land without treatment, but a black or brown soil rich in organic matter, and a soil farmed for many years with cultivated or hay crops, with but few exceptions, show an acid content. The reason for this is that plants in their growth give off acids and these together with the large amounts of humic and other acids in the soil organic content use the available lime not used by the plant in its growth. When these acids are present in the soil the nitrogen gathering bacteria—so essential for the best alfalfa growth, and so essential for leaving our soil richer in our highest priced fertilizer, nitrogen—will not do their best work in fixing nitrogen gathered from the air in the soil for use by future plant growth.

To sweeten a soil not having plenty of natural lime content we should apply ground limestone rock screenings at the rate of at least two tons to theacre on most of the corn belt farm land, every four or five years. The average soil will lose when cultivated 800 pounds of lime each year and we must replace this loss.

Inoculation Necessary.

The third main essential, inoculation, is very important where alfalfa or sweet clover have not been grown in the fields. We know of successful fields of alfalfa on soil naturally rich in nitrogen that show no inoculation, but even these fields would show better results with inoculation and would add nitrogen fertility to the soil instead of robbing the soil of nitrogen as they are now doing. By inoculation we mean the adding to the soil of bacteria adapted to growth in the cluster or nodulated form on the alfalfa root. Alfalfa and sweet clover have a nodular bacterial growth common to these two plants but different from those found on the other clovers. These bacteria when present on the roots of the clovers gather the nitrogen from the air in the soil and fix it or leave it in the soil for future use by all plants.

CHEMICAL PROCESSES INVOLVED IN MAKING OF BREAD

Relationship Between Wheat and Flour are Shown by Comparative Table—The Baking Process.

(By Isabel Bevier, Department of Household Science, University of Illinois).

The relation between the chemical composition of spring and winter wheats, as well as wheat, flour and bread, is shown by the following figures:

	Water	Protein	Fat	Carbohydrates	Ash
1. Wheat—
Spring varieties	10.4	12.5	2.2	72.	1.9
Winter varieties	10.5	11.8	2.1	73.8	1.8
2. Flour—
Minnesota Standard, patent	10.54	11.99	1.61	75.36	.5
Bread from Minnesota Standard pat.	34.1	9.	1.30	54.9	.7
3. Bread—
Average of 198 analyses	35.3	9.2	1.3	53.1	1.1

1. Farmers' Bulletin 389, p. 16; 2. Farmers' Bulletin 389, p. 41; 3. Farmers' Bulletin 389, p. 38.

Climate, soil and rainfall influence the composition of both wheat and flour, so the figures showing the chemical compositions vary. One hundred and ninety-eight analyses of bread give a fair average of its chemical composition. For practice purposes one would do well to remember that, chemically speaking, bread is approximately one-third water, one-tenth protein and one-half starch.

Changing Flour to Bread.

It is evident from the above table that various changes are wrought in converting wheat into flour and flour into bread. The process of bread making is accomplished by the addition of a liquid—milk, water or potato water—and yeast to the flour.

Usually fat, sugar and salt are added also. The flour, by addition of the liquid, is converted into dough. The yeast cells are separated and distributed through the mass of the dough. The yeasts grow and multiply, and in the process of their growth some of the starch of the flour is changed into sugar; carbondioxide through the mass makes it light. Gas cavities are formed throughout the dough in the process of rising, and it is upon the number, size and distribution of these cavities that the lightness and grain of the bread depend.

The Baking Process.

When the loaf is baked, the heat of the oven causes the gas to expand, the alcohol to be driven off, the proteins to coagulate and set, forming the walls of these cavities and a framework, as it were for the loaf. Some of the starch is changed into dextrin. Thus the crust is formed. It is the dextrin which gives the crust its glazed appearance.

As shown by the chemical composition given above, there is a large gaining the proportion of water in the bread, and a small loss in nutritive material, due to the conversion of the starch into alcohol and the changes wrought in the protein and fat.

TALKS ABOUT TAZEWELL COUNTY FARM AFFAIRS

ADVISER ROBBINS EMPHASIZES NEED OF CAREFUL SEED SELECTION.

Hardier Wheat Will Mean Better Returns—Clover Seed Should Be Chosen Now—Silos Prove Money Makers for Cattle Feeders—Alfalfa Returns.

(By E. T. Robbins, County Adviser Tazewell County).

It is a wise plan to select clover seed now. One of the most important considerations in clover seed is its purity and germinating power. Most of the farmers in this county select clover seed this fall from their own clover or that of their neighbors so as to secure the very best quality of seed. Many fields in this county are free very from weeds and the clover seed is very desirable. Then too, seed which is harvested without allowing part of it to sprout is very likely to grow well.

Tazewell county has a good reputation in the market for high class clover seed. The crop is likely to be bought up early in the season. When it is once shipped away, the farmers here who have not provided a stock of seed for next spring, will be compelled to use the cheapest and poorest grades. Tazewell county farmers can afford to use the very best grade of clover seed and now that they have it right at home there is no excuse to buy poor seed later on. Some sections of Illinois ship in seed from points hundreds of miles away. Tazewell county supplies seed for such localities. However, before letting seed go for this purpose, farmers here should make sure of a supply for themselves.

Clover Once in Four Years.

A bushel of clover seed is required for every seven or eight acres seeded. Tazewell county needs about one-fourth of its acreage under cultivation in clover every year. From this it is easy to compute the amount of clover seed required next spring.

The farmers who plan to keep about one-fourth of their land in clover raise the big crops of grain. This means that each field will be sown to clover once in four years. A crop of clover followed by two crops of corn, then a crop of oats or wheat, and seeded to clover again is the most profitable rotation for most of our Tazewell county land. The extra crops of grain produced during the three years, aggregate a larger number of bushels and much more profit than if four crops of grain were raised.

Tre failure of clover sown last spring will discourage some farmers from planting any this season. There will make a great mistake. We seldom have such a drought as this year and we seldom have two years in succession with clover a failure. It is only by sowing clover regularly every spring that we may may take the best care of the land.

$20 Rent for Alfalfa Land.

The alfalfa seeded this summer in Tazewell county has been put in mostly by men who own their own land, but alalfa is a paying crop for both land owner and tenent. The other day H. W. Danfort received $20 an acre rent for an alfalfa field, on sandy land. He had persuaded the tenant to sow that field as an experiment. The tenant found that a ton of alfalfa hay lasted just twice as long as the same amount of timothy for his horses. Accordingly, he was glad to buy Mr. Danforh's half of the crop for $20 per acre.

Silos Making Money.

Some very fine permanent silos have been put up within the last two weeks in this county. Many stave silos will be put up very soon. On a number of farms I have visited lately I have found good new stave silos stored under shelter ready for setting up. These silos will make their owners more money than any other investment this year in farm equipment. It is safe to say that an acre of corn will feed as much stock when put in silos as two acres will stored any other way. A silo 16 by 30 feet, holding about 100 tons, will furnish all the silage that 40 or 50 fattening steers will eat in six months, even tholgn theey receive no hay. Dairy cattle use more silage than steers, but when they are fed silage they require very little grain. Dairy cows fed silage and clover hay can be kept up to maximum milk production on less than half as much grain as is usually fed.

Selecting Seed Wheat.

Wheat for seed should be carefully selected. This county needs wheat which will endure severe weather in winter. Some varieties endure winter better than others. A year ago most of the which which lasted through the severe winter was of the bearded variety and mainly Turkey Red. This hard winter wheat is very hardy and very productive. Several farmers in Tazewell county have produced 35 to 40 bushels per acre of Turkey Red wheat this year.

Much of our wheat must be treated this year for smut. Some fields were badly infested with this. Next week we will give full instructions for treating seed wheat for smut.

Farm Vinegar Salable.

Many farmers in this county have barrels of pure apple cider vinegar which they have been unable to sell, as the grocers have demanded government inspection. I took this matter up with the board of food and drug inspection of the United States department of agriculture and received this letter from the chairman of the board:

"In the opinion of the department there is no neccssity for any government inspection of home made apple cider vinegar. The only questions to be considered are, first, whether it is made from pure apple juice, and second, whether it has a sufficient acid strength to meet the requirements of the laws of the state in which it is to be sold. The principal difficulty in the past has undoubtedly been due to the fact that these vinegars have not had the required strength."

From this it appears that the government restrictions do not apply to the sale of home made apple cider vinegar by farmers.

JERSEY COWS HOLD GREAT RECORD FOR BUTTER FAT

Bovines From Channel Island Among Best Known Dairy Breeds—Foundation Stock Came From Brittany and Normandy.

(By M. J. Smith).

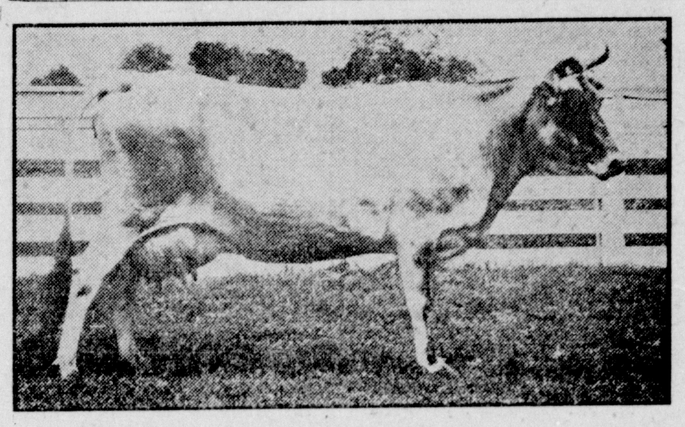

South of England and about 12 miles from the coast of France is located a small island known as the island of Jersey. This is the largest island of the group known as the Channel Islands, it being about 11 miles long and 6 wide. The surface of the island has been spoken of as being similar to the top of a hot-bed frame,being gently sloping to the south.

On this island there has been developed one of the most interesting and important breeds of dairy cattle that is known today. The origin of the breed is unknown, but various theories exist, concerning the sources of the early stock.

It is generally believed that the foundation stock came from Brittany and Normandy, both of France. A great interest in the breed has always been shown by the farmers and breeders of the island.

Keep Character of Breed.

The value of keeping the character of the breed was early recognized, and laws were passed as early as 1763 forbidding the importation of cattle from France to the island. That the interest of the breed has not decreased was recently shown at the annual spring show of the Royal Society of Jersey, when his excellency, the governor of the island, distributed the prizes.

A Typical Jersey Cow.

The general character of the modern Jersey is very typical of the pronounced dairy type. The early producers adhered more closely to type, color and markings than do the modern breeders. What the modern breeder is paying the most attention to is utility, as a butter producer. Hence today the modern type may be of broken color and lack in some of the fancy points previously demanded.

The color is fawn like, but may be of various shades and tints. A solid fawn color over the entire body is generally preferred, but in the present day Jersey white markings are very common.

The head of the Jersey is lean, short, broad between the eyes, with a strong lower jaw and with some what more dish of face, than is the case with some of the other breeds. The skin is thin, elastic and mellow, with a fine thick coat of hair. The chest should be deep and the back strong, with good spring of rib. Plenty of udder room is very essential. The size of the Jersey is rather small. A weight of 850 pounds would be a fair average for the cows.

Produces Butter Fat.

The great achievement of the Jersey cow and the one for which she is famous is her ability to produce butter fat. As a producer of quantity of milk the Jersey does not rank so high.

The Jersey represents one of the most beautiful creations of the live stock breeder, for no animal displays more quality and refinement than the well bred Jersey cow, and she has very appropriately been called the "Queen of the Dairy."

Little has been heard of Perugini in late years, though twenty years ago he was one of the most widely known figures on the American stage. He was then a light opera tenor. He was at one time the husband of Lillian Russell. Fifty years ago he made his first appearance as the Prince in "Cinderella."

MOTHERS! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Don't Hesitate! a Laxative is Necessary if Tongue Is Coated, Breath Bad or Stomach Sour.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother; see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup company." Don't be fooled! (Adv.)

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

STOCK MARKET SHOWS STRENGTH

UNION PACIFIC MAKES FIVE POINT GAIN.

Rise of Stocks Apparently is Due to Strength of the Market—Movement in U. P. Starts Whole List Upward.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Sept. 12—Union Pacific, whose performances have kept the stock market on edge for several days, outstripped its recent movements today by rising over five points. The price came within a shade of 160, showing a gain of 10½ points since rumors of a cash distribution to stockholders gained currency and the upturn began. Although the advance in this stock much exceeded the average movement, the market in general made a striking showing of strength.

The day's advance was rendered the more impressive by the fact that there was no bullish news on which to base it. The rise apparently was due to the inheritent strength of the market in its present position. Traders said that a steady accumulation of stocks, much of it by small investors, had been going on for some time, reducing the floating supply. Bears who sold on recent developments which were construed unfavorably had built up a considerable short interest. With the market thus in a strong technical position, it required nothing more than the impulse supplied by the bear entries in Union Pacific to start the whole list upward.

Forecasts of tomorrow's bank statement were conflicting. They indicated that the week's movement of currency had not been important in net results and that either a small gain or a small loss would be shown.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

Mrs. Richard Perkins Thrown to Pavement—Is Severely Bruised.

Mrs. Richard Perkins, who resides east of the city, was thrown from her buggy in a runaway Friday afternoon, striking her head on the pavement, sustaining an ugly cut on her forehead and some severe bruises. She was driving to the city and when just opposite the Blind on East State street her horse became frightened at an automobile and became unamanageable, running into the curbing, when Mrs. Perkins was thrown out. She was unconscious for about thirty minutes and was taken the residence of Mrs. William Self. Dr. Hairgrove was called and she was taken to Passavant hospital, where her injuries received the necessary attention. Several stitches were required to close the wound in her forehead.

The horse ran west on East State street and stopped at a place whereit is frequently hitched. Mrs. Perkins was able to return to her home with her daughter a few hours after the accident.

D. M. Cooper and family of Winchester were among the city visitors yesterday.

FOREIGN STRENGTH AIDS WHEAT MARKET

CABLES OVERCOME EFFECT OF HEAVY SALES OF WHEAT.

Rains That Put the Soil in Condition For Fall Plowing Have Much to do With the General Selling—Corn is Easier Most of Day Because of Selling Pressure.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Unexpected strength at Liverpool and a surprising development of export demand here more than overcame today the effect of heavy sales of wheat. The market closed nervous, ⅛@¼c to ⅜c above last night's. Corn finished ⅛c to ¼c down, oats varying from a shade decline to ⅛@¼c advance and provisions the same as last night to 7½c off.

Rains which put the soil in fine condition for fall plowing had a good deal to do with the general selling that greeted an early upturn made by the wheat market in response to a bulge in Liverpool. The ensuing decline reached well under last night's level for deferred futures but not for September.

Corn was easier most of the day because of selling pressure which was largely from speculators but the market showed good power to recover. Rains that meant much help to pastures formed the principal argument for the bears.

Oats reflected the action of other grain, easing off early and then making a rally. Yesterday's chief sellers were buying at the windup.

Provisions gave way under selling by a western packer and on account of a decline at the yards. Offerings, though, were finally absorbed by other packers and new investors, so that in the end losses were partly wiped out.

Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

There is usually a certain degree of dread in every woman's mind as to the probable pain, distress and danger of child-birth. But, thanks to a most remarkable remedy known as Mother's Friend, all fear is banished and the period is one of unbounded, joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is used externally. It is a most penetrating application, makes the muscles of the stomach and abdomen pliant so they expand easily and naturally without pain, without distress and with none of that peculiar nausea, nervousness and other symptoms that tend to weaken the prospective mother. Thus Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of a little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy families.

There are thousands of women who have used Mother's Friend, and thus know from experience that it is one of our greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood. It is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle, and is especially recommended as a preventive of caking breasts and all other such distresses.

Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 131 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their very valuable book to expectant mothers. Get a bottle of Mother's Friend to-day.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

BASEBALL STRATEGY.

A Game That Was Won by Two Players and a Live Snake.

Tommy Tucker lost a game for Washington to Chicago once and started a battle all because of a trick Bill Dahlen and Bill Everett put up on him.

Tom never did like snakes. Indeed, he held them in abhorrence, and in some way Dahlen discovered this. Washington was to play Chicago that afternoon, and during the morning practice on the west side grounds Dahlen and Everett discovered a small gartersnake and treasured it up.

Along in the fourth inning Everett cracked out a hit, and as soon as he landed on first base Dahlen, ignoring his usual custom, ran out to coach, and a moment later he slipped the harmless little reptile to Everett, who dropped it into Tucker's hip pocket.

Tommy discovered the snake just as the pitcher was delivering the ball and, with a yelp, he deserted first base. The batter had hit to the shortstop, who gathered up the ball on the run and started to throw to second, but was too late and threw toward first. Tommy was twenty feet off the base, jumping up and down and hunting for something with which to kill that snake, and the ball went to the stands and Chicago scored four runs before the inning ended.

Tucker protested wildly, but the umpire couldn't find anything about snakes in the rule book and let it go at that.

GET IN THE SUNSHINE.

Then Profit by the Shadows In Which You Have Lingered.

If you are in a hurry don't get behind a lame man. "Hitch your chariot to a star." Beware of the sneerer and the scoffer. Seek the man who believes in things that are good and who is trying to make everything else better by deeds and words.

Come into the sunshine for a little while. It is a good world after all. You have had hard luck, ill health and hard blows, but open your ledger and see if the credit doesn't overbalance the debit side.

Be frank with yourself and see how much of the debits can be charged to your own fault—a lack of foresight, trusting the untrustworthy, overreaching selfishness, stupidity, extravagance, failure to learn by experience or refusal to profit by advice.

Take a few precious moments for self examination. Don't mourn because some one who started in life with fewer advantages than you had has done so much better. Think of those you have left behind in the race. Yours must be a hopeless case if you are last in line.

Happiness is from within, not from without. No greater happiness can be found than that which comes from the sweet content of right thinking, right living and a good conscience. Try it. See how warm and inviting its sunshine is.—John A. Sleicher in Leslie's.

Applied Legal Tactics.

A gray haired lawyer enjoyed a laugh at the expense of his friend, an uptown bank cashier, the other day.

The youngest member of the law firm, also known to the cashier, thinking possibly to make the latter the butt of a practical joke, had attempted without success to change a counterfeit fifty cent piece at the window.

Told of the incident an hour later the elderly lawyer reached into his pocket and drew out a number of coins.

"When you are weak on any one point," he said, as he selected $1.50 from the handful, "try burying it under as much other evidence as may be adjudged relevant—in short, let me have that bad half—confuse the question at issue. Here, Jimmie," calling an office boy, "take this change down to Mr. ——, the cashier, and get a two dollar bill."

And the boy did.—New York Sun.

Wudna Suit the Kilt.

In the early days of the territorial army there was a boom in recruiting for it. In one part of the highlands almost every man in the district joined the local battalion of "kilties," and the men were signed on without medical examination, it being quite usual in some country districts to wait until the annual camp before medically examining recruits. On arrival in camp it was noticed that one man was wearing the trews at drill instead of the regulation kilt, and, being asked the reason, he explained that he had left his kilt at home. "Why on earth did you do that?" inquired his company officer. "Weel, ye see, sir," replied the recruit, "I'm afraid I wudna suit the kilt verra weel, as I've got a wooden leg."—Glasgow News.

Synonymous.

It was Springer's afternoon off, and he thought he would take the children for a little outing.

"My dear," he said, approaching his wife, "suppose we take the children to the zoo today."

"Why, Will, you promised to take them to mother's."

"All right, if it's all the same to the children."—Lippincott's.

An Exception.

"When people want some quiet, restful topic they always mention the weather."

"Not in the department of agriculture."—Washington Star.

His Instrument.

"That executor is very energetic in carrying out the various provisions of the testator."

"He does seem to be working with a will."—Baltimore American.

EDUCATION NOTES.

Systematic study in citizenship is given in the elementary schools of France, Denmark and Finland.

There were 17,238 students in the University of Paris last year, of whom 3,267 were foreigners.

The Rockefeller sanitary commission for the eradication of the hookworm has treated 400,000 cases in the past three years.

Rural districts in Denmark show less than 1-20 of 1 per cent illiteracy. In the United States the corresponding figure is 10 per cent.

Medical inspection is particularly well organized in the department of the Seine, France, where 275 medical inspectors visit the schools of their districts every week.

In rural schools in Missouri girls are organized into "pick-and-shovel clubs" under the direction of the National Congress of Mothers, to aid in the good roads movement.

"Already 21 counties in California out of the total of 58 are maintaining county free library work," says a recent report of the United States bureau of education, "and many more are preparing to adopt it. With a central office and storehouse established at the county seat, and with branches throughout the county, the people even in the remotest districts are receiving a library service possible in no other way."

The cities of Ulm and Frankfort, Germany, are trying a novel plan for housing their teachers. They are selling to their teachers good municipal land at a low price and accepting a mortgage on it at low interest. In Frankfort this mortgage may amount to 90 per cent of the value, so that the applicant has to provide but 10 per cent from its own funds. The tax and mortgage payments together, it is said, do not amount to any more than reasonable rent, and with his regular "house money," which is allowed him besides his salary, the teacher is soon the owner of his own home.

Golden rod, plants and various leaves in decorating one of the dindows at Frost & Nolley's yesterday had anything but the desired effect. The flowers and foliage looked well when first put in the window but later gave out so much heat that the glass was rendered almost opaque and the heat within the boxed window was intense.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. Burley Jones entertained the members of the Clio circle of the Literberry Christian church at her home in Literberry Friday afternoon. About twenty members and friends were present and after the regular business session a social hour was enjoyed. In the contest Miss Georgia Liter was winner of the prize. During the hours refreshments were served.

Misses Sue Fox and Helen Reaugh entertained at a porch party Friday morning at the home of Miss Reaugh on West College avenue, in honor of Miss Leila Smith of Caldwell street, who is ot be married October 6th to Evan Wildman of Chicago. The guest list included intimate friends of the bride-to-be.

Miss Smith was presented gifts of linen, and these were placed in packages, to which a string was attached and the recipient was required to follow the string for the gift. The porch decorations were of fall flowers and foliage and part of the morning was spent by the young ladies in hemming linen towels. Substantial refreshments were served, the ice cream being moulded in the form of bride's slippers.

Mrs. E. B. Sturgeon, Mrs. W. C. Thompson and Mrs. George Killam were hostesses of the High Five club, which met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Sturgeon, east of the city. An impromptu literary and musical program was given and a good time socially was had, during which time palatable refreshments were served. Eight hundred people gathered in the big tent on the high school lot Friday evening in the meeting preliminary to the month's series to begin Sunday under the leadership of Dr. Milton S. Rees of New York and eight hundred people took added courage for the coming religious awakening from the earnest, pointed words of Rev. Mr. Thrapp and Rev. Messrs. Dorgan, Spoonts, Morey and Darsie, the ministers of the participating churches. The Rev. and Mrs. Rees will arrive today over the 3:45 Alton. In order that their reception may be sufficiently hearty, plans were made for an automobile party to meet them and to that end those who can take part were requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 3 o'clock. The general committee met on the tent platform at the close of last evening's meeting and made final plans regarding the advertising, lighting, seating and finances for the coming revival.

Co-Operation Counts.

"Twelve years ago it would not have been possible to hold such a series of meetings as we are now facing," said the Rev. R. F. Thrapp in his remarks on revival prospects. "The Sunday meetings broke the ice. It was then that we learned the possibilities of co-operation, that we agree on more things than on which we disagree and that we can all pull together and help one another in the work of the Lord."

He said that each churrh will get out of the union meeting just as much as it puts in and that for true success the absolute essentials are earnest, prayerful, consecrated effort. He spoke of the high regard with which he holds the state of Illinois and Jacksonville and compared the situation here and in California with regard the fight against the liquor traffic. The woman's vote in the later state has aided the cause of prohibition, it is up to the women of Illinois to surprise the liquor interests by turning out to the polls and swelling the majority against the saloon to the largest ever seen.

Ministers Offer Suggestions.

That the christian citizens of Jacksonville must not presume on their strength but must groom themselves for a hard fight, was the keynote of the remarks of Rev. Mr. Darsie. "Be loyal to Jesus Christ and bring some one else with you," said Dr. Morey in his exhortation for united effort in the coming revival. Rev. Mr. Spoonts spoke also of the needs and prospects of the series of meetings, taking as his theme, the "Foundation of Faith." Great faith undertakes great things, awakens great expectations, overcomes great difficulties and achieves great victories.

"If five hundred people will bring a dollar Sunday night the sum thus raised together with the total of the smaller contributions would pay the expenses of the entire meeting," said Rev. Mr. Dorgan in his talk on revival finances. His idea was heartily seconded by the general committee and an attempt will be made to do away with constant collection taking by raising the whole amount, $750, at the service Sunday evening. Besides financial matters, the general committee at the close of the service discussed advertising matters, provided for outside lights and planned for the use of the toilet rooms at the high school during the meetings and suggested that placards be placed on certain chairs in the tent, reserving them for the ushers, as was done at the Sunday revival.

"Years of Experience Have Proven to Me That the MAJESTIC Range IS the Best

"Strange, that for years, I couldn't see that trying to get good work from an old, wornout range, merely to save the price of a new one, was not true economy. My Great Majestic has more than earned its cost in the saving of fuel alone, because the open seams and joints in my old, worn-out range where the bolts were loose and the putty had crumbled away, made me burn twice as much fuel as necessary.

"Talk about luck in baking—"luck" is nothing but good oven and my Majestic oven is simply perfect. I can depend on it absolutely every day. I believe father and the children are happier and I know we have better meals at less expense with our Majestic."

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12.—Fire which did $100,000 damages tonight destroyed the elevator of the Standard Tilton Milling company at Alton, Ill., near here and caused a panic in a nearby theater in which fatalities were narrowly averted.

Harry and Edward Berry, brothers and firemen, fighting the blaze, were seriously injured by falling timbers when a section of the elevator toppled to the ground.

The fire is believed to have started from an over-heated bearing of a machine at the top of the elevator. More than 100,000 bushels of wheat stored in the elevator were consumed.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF GRACE M. E. CHURCH MEETS

Reports of the Year's Work Are Read and Matters of Business Transacted—Promises of Society For Next Year.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of Grace M. E. church was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. V. Breckon, 805 West North street. There was a good attendance and Mrs. R. A. Gates lead the devotional. After reports of officers were read and approved a letter was read from Mrs. F. A. Bullard, corresponding secretary of the Illinois Conference, urging each auxilary to send in the names of five paid new members. This will not be a difficulty for the local auxilary as they now have nearly twenty paid new members. It was voted to send a delegate to the conference to be held October 29-30 at Springfield, where car fare will be paid for by the society.

A letter from Mrs. Elder, who is in charge of the McClesky home at Doaz, Alabama, relates that the name of the student for which the society pays tuition is Bertha Mathis.

The society voted to continue the Children's Home Mission paper. A part of the "Thoro" business shows $57 stock on hand paid for and $45 in the bank.

The first and second honors of having the most credits were awarded to the mite box directors in charge of Mrs. Amelia Nebold and Mrs. Baumgartner.

The report of the last year's work showed $227.50 in cash, besides boxes and barrels sent out to the value of $90.00. The object for next year as promised follows: McClesky Home, $50; Slavonic Home, East St. Louis, $25; Washington Training school, $10; Cunningham Home, $10; Nome, Alaska, $16; Conference Contingents, $10; Total $120. The payment of dues early in the school year relieved the school from much embarrassment on account of funds, hence the society would like all dues paid at the October meeting.

The regular paper of the afternoon was one of unusual interest being a symposium of a leaflet by Mrs. Martha Capps Oliver. After refreshments and a social hour the society adjourned to meet October 9th with Mrs. Crouch.

FULLER TELLS OF SULZER'S DEALINGS WITH HIS FIRM

Testifies That Executive Paid Him $16,000 in Person Within a Month and a Day After the Last Election

New York, Sept. 12.—Governor Sulzer's transactions in Wall street, from June 27, 1910 till they ceased—at least so far as one firm of brokers was concerned—on July 14 last, were discribed in an oath delivered by Melville D. Fuller who said he was Sulzer's broker, in a hearing held by the nine impeachment managers appointed by theh assembly.

Mr. Fuller, who before the Frawley investigating commission refused to testify oncerning certain matters, today answered all questions. He testified that Sulzer had paid him $16,000 in person within a month and a day after the last election, and that he (Fuller) had had no dealings with Mrs. Sulzer.

Fuller told of Sulzer while a representative opening an account with his firm and detailed various transactions including the borrowing of $23,000 from the firm and giving as collateral 400 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock. Also that Sulzers indebtedness to the firm one time amounted to $50,162. The final payment on this debt was made July 16 last.

Action Taken to Protect Man From Threatened Assault For Attack Made on the Catholic Church.

New Lexington, Ohio, Sept. 12.—Mayor Gue called out the local company of state militia here tonight to prevent a threatened assault on Jeremiah Crowley by persons who were incensed over an attack made on the Catholic church by Crowley in speeches delivered Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Crowley, who is being held at police headquarters under guard, claims that he is a former priest and said that his home is in Pennsylvania. Crowds which collected on the streets today became so threatening that Mayor Gue telegraphed Governor Cox for troops. Receiving no reply to his message and fearing trouble tonight, the mayor called out the local militia and ordered all places of business closed.

DISCOVER NEW COUNTERFEITS.

Washington, Sept. 12.—There seems to be an epidemic of counterfeits and the United States secret service has redoubled its efforts to catch the offenders. On the heels of an announcement only a few days ago of the discovery of three new counterfeit national bank notes, Acting Chief W. H. Moran today warned the public of a new counterfeit $5 United States note. It is a poor reproduction on paper of fair quality. The treasury seal has been lightly touched with pink ink and a slight attempt has been made to apply green coloring matter to the back of the bill.
